Federal Student Aid

Federal Student Aid (FSA) is financial assistance from the Federal Government and is to be used to help students pay for college. The type and amounts of aid may vary, but federal aid is based on several pieces of financial and demographic data, so it is unwise to make assumptions about not qualifying. In order to receive FSA, you must be working toward a degree or an approved certificate program and maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress as described in the college's Academic Catalog. The amount of FSA received is based, in part, upon your enrollment status (e.g., full-time, half-time, etc), your family's income, and other demographic information. FSA is determined each year, and generally, you may receive FSA from only one college at a time.

Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)

In order to apply for Federal Aid, you first need to complete the FAFSA application. The FAFSA is the tool used to determine what type and how much Federal Student Aid you may receive. If you think you might qualify for a federal grant, then you need to complete the FAFSA. If you only qualify for federal student loans, you still need to complete the FAFSA.

To begin filing your FAFSA, you (and your parents if you are a dependent student) need to apply for a FSA ID. An FSA ID is a username and password that you must use to log in to certain U.S. Department of Education (ED) websites. Your FSA ID identifies you as someone who has the right to access your own personal information on ED websites such as the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA®) at fafsa.gov. This will also allow you to sign the FAFSA electronically. You create your FSA ID then begin the Federal Student Aid Process. The following are items you will need to complete your FAFSA.

1. Your W-2s (and your parents or spouse W-2's if applicable)
2. Your Social Security Number
3. Your parent(s) Social Security Numbers
4. Drivers License
5. Central's School Code (Central's code is 014619)
6. Your 2015 tax return if you do not use the IRS Data Retrieval System

Once you have everything ready, you may go to www.fafsa.ed.gov to begin the application process. The links to the FSA ID and FAFSA websites are also on our Financial Aid Web pages under steps two and three.

As you are filing your FAFSA, you will be asked if you (and your parents if applicable) would like to retrieve your tax information from the IRS website and then have it fill in the FAFSA. This is the simplest and most accurate way for you to complete this section of the FAFSA. It is a simple process and can be used within two weeks for tax returns that were filed electronically and six to eight weeks after paper tax returns have been mailed to the IRS. Please be aware that your parents will need to retrieve their own tax data and should also complete their part of the FAFSA.

Sometimes there is confusion on a student's dependency status. Please refer to page 14 in this handbook for information on this topic.

We strongly urge students to complete the FAFSA online because the processing time is much quicker and generally more accurate. However, a paper FAFSA is available upon request from the Financial Aid Office (FAO).

Student Aid Report (SAR)

Once you have completed the process, you will receive notification from the Department of Education of the outcome. If you filed your FAFSA electronically, you will receive an email with details on how to obtain a copy of your SAR. A copy of your information will also be sent to the college so the FAO can begin processing the information. Please review the SAR to ensure there are no mistakes. If you find a mistake, go back to the FAFSA website and make a correction. If you have more questions, please feel free to contact Central's Financial Aid Office. We are here to help you through this process.

Verification

From time to time, the Financial Aid Office may request that you send information to the college. This may be because your FAFSA has been selected for verification by the Department of Education, or it may be miscellaneous information is needed to complete your financial aid package. If selected, you may need to send the following items:

1. 2015 Tax Transcript*
2. W-2's for student (and spouse or parent, whichever is applicable.)
3. "Verification Worksheet" sent by the Financial Aid Office

Please make sure you sign all documents and double check to make sure you have sent all requested documents. To obtain a copy of your tax transcript, please go to www.irs.gov; click on the "Get Transcript for my Tax Records" link. You may also call 1-800-908-9946 or use the IRS form 4506T-EZ or IRS Form 4506-T to obtain a Tax Return Transcript.

Please include the exact information you provided for your 2015 Income Tax Return, including your address. The IRS will mail your and your parent's Tax Transcript to the address you requested the information to be sent. More documents may be requested if the FAO deems it necessary to resolve any conflicting information.

If selected, verification must be completed before any Federal Student Aid is disbursed to a student. A student has until September 23, 2017, or 120 days after the last day of the student's enrollment, whichever is earlier, to submit the verification documents. If a student chooses not to finish verification, no federal aid will be disbursed. Other factors in disbursing Federal Student Aid may apply. Please contact the FAO for more information.

Award Letter

Once the Financial Aid Office has received all of the requested information from you and determined what type and how much financial aid you qualify for, you will receive an Award Letter. The letter will be emailed to you unless you instruct the Financial Aid Office to do otherwise. A paper copy of your Award Letter is available upon request.

Once you have received your admittance letter from Central's Admissions Office, you may also view your financial aid package on the student portal system. Your student loans will be on the portal information once you have completed the loan application process. You should receive your user ID and Password from the Admissions Department. If you didn't receive your portal information you may call 888-263-3900 ext. 144 and request this information be resent to you.

TYPES OF FEDERAL AID

Federal Pell Grant

A Pell Grant is a form of need-based aid and does not need to be repaid. How much a student will receive in a Pell Grant is determined by the information a student submits on the FAFSA and the resulting EFC number (Expected Family Contribution). If your EFC ranges from 0 to 5234, you may qualify for a Pell Grant. For the 2016-2017 academic years, a student who is attending full-time and qualifies for a Pell Grant would receive an award ranging from $598 to $2,908 per semester. Awarding of the grant is also based on your enrollment status as a student (full-time, half-time, etc.).

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)

A FSEOG grant is also a need-based grant and does not require repayment. The FSEOG is awarded to those with the greatest need who have also received a Pell Grant. The need is determined by the student's EFC as well as other aid being received. Awards vary, but generally range from $300 to $500 per semester.

Applying for a Federal William D. Ford Stafford Direct Loan Program

In order to help students pay for their college education, Central participates in the Stafford Direct Loan Program. A student may apply for a Direct Loan by filling out a Master Promissory Note (MPN) at www.studentloans.gov. Read more about the Direct Loan Program as well as at Central's Financial Aid website under Financial Aid, Applying for Financial Aid, step 6.

After applying for their student loans, first time borrowers of a Federal Direct Loan must also complete Entrance Counseling. Entrance Counseling ensures you understand your rights and responsibilities as a borrower of federal student loan funds. You can do that at www.studentloans.gov. This process should take no longer than thirty minutes. While you are on the studentloans.gov site, please take notice of the helpful resources it has to offer. They will help you track your loans while you are in school and after your graduation.

There are three types of Direct Student Loans: subsidized, unsubsidized and Parent PLUS.

1. Subsidized Loan

The federal government pays the interest on a subsidized loan for students enrolled in at least 6 hours per semester until students have been in their program of study up to 150 percent of the published program length. Once a student drops below half-time, withdraws, or graduates, interest for a student's subsidized loans will begin accruing.

A student's loan amount is limited by financial need and by the class level at school. The interest rate is fixed at 3.76%. Repayment begins six months after leaving college or dropping below half-time status (6 hours/semester). Depending upon need, the yearly maximum loan amounts are as follows: first year (freshman), $3,500; second year (sophomore), $4,500; and third through fifth years (junior and senior), $5,500. A student may borrow up to $23,000 in subsidized loans during their college career.

First-time borrowers (those who have no principal or interest balance on any Direct or FFEL Loan on the date they receive a Direct Loan on or after July 1, 2013) may not receive Direct Subsidized Loans for a period that exceeds 150% of the published length of the academic program in which they are currently enrolled. Please contact the Financial Aid Office for more information concerning this limitation.

2. Unsubsidized Loan

The difference between this loan and the subsidized loan is that the government does not pay the interest while you are in school. Interest charges begin the first day of your loan period. The interest rate for this loan is fixed at 3.76%. Students may defer the interest charges by adding these amounts to the principal for future repayment. This loan program is not need-based; it is available to students regardless of their financial need. In other words, if you don't qualify for the subsidized loan, you probably will qualify for the unsubsidized loan.

Dependent students may borrow an additional $2,000 per academic year in an unsubsidized loan. Independent students who are freshmen and sophomores may borrow up to $6,000 per year. Independent students who are juniors and seniors may borrow up to $7,000 per year. The Financial Aid Office will work with the students to determine their loan capacity for each year.

3. Federal PLUS Loan (Parent Loans for Undergraduate Students)

PLUS Loans are for parents of dependent students. These loans have a fixed interest rate of 6.31%. The PLUS Loan allows parents to borrow up to the cost of attendance not covered by other aid. If a parent chooses, payment may be deferred until the student graduates, leaves school, or drops below half-time.

Students and parents who chose to participate in the Federal Direct Loan Program are advised that their loan information will be submitted to the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS) and will be accessible by guaranty agencies, lenders, and institutions determined to be authorized users of the data system. You may view your loan information at any time at www.nsls.ed.gov.

Federal Work Study

This program provides jobs for students who need financial assistance. Students will generally work between 5 and 15 hours per week during the school year. Actual work hours will be determined by each student's supervisor. The amount of earnings must not exceed the student's unmet need. The government provides funding to help pay the wages. As with the Pell Grant, work study earnings do not have to be repaid.

Department of Education Resource

The Department of Education has published an excellent resource that discusses Federal Financial Aid, as well as the rights and responsibilities of students and institutions under Federal Student Aid programs. You can find it at: <http://www.edpubs.gov/document/en1276h.pdf?ck=596?ck=531>

The Full-Tuition Scholarship

Eligibility Requirements

Each semester, Central will have 100 open Full-Tuition Scholarships available to new or transferring students who have been admitted into a degree or certificate program and attend classes on our Moberly campus. This scholarship will equal the cost of tuition up to 17 hours of study per semester. Students who do not receive one of the Full-Tuition Scholarships will receive a Central Scholarship equivalent to 80% of their tuition up to 17 hours of study per semester. If, after one semester, a student has met academic, Christian service, and chapel expectations, the student will receive a Full-Tuition scholarship for the second semester. Central Christian College may also award a Full-Tuition Scholarship to additional students in certain circumstances.

To maintain the scholarship, students must meet the following requirements.

1. Students must continue to meet Central's published Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) requirements. Students meeting these requirements will continue to receive the Full-Tuition Scholarship (FTS) until they have completed their first bachelor's degree from Central. Complete information about Central's SAP standards can be found in the Academic Catalog.
2. Students are required to do 60 hours of Christian Service each semester. In order to maintain the FTS, a student must complete 90% of the required Christian Service Hours.
3. Students who are required to attend Chapel Services may only miss 2 chapel services (one absence per reporting period) without a reduction in their tuition scholarship.

Chapel and Christian Service will be reported and evaluated at mid-term each semester. If a student has not met the criteria, the student will have their tuition scholarship reduced by 10% for each reporting period. If a student fails to meet both standards during a reporting period, Chapel & Christian Service, the student will have their tuition scholarship reduced by 20% for each reporting period.

A student may appeal to the Financial Aid Director, in writing, if they feel an error or extenuating circumstances exists within 10 days of receiving the notification of the scholarship reduction. The decision of the Financial Aid Director is final.

Disbursement Of The Full-Tuition & Central Scholarships

Students who are awarded a Full-Tuition and/or Central Scholarship will see a tuition charge on their student bill. The tuition scholarship will be disbursed at the 30% point of each semester. After each disbursement, if a credit balance is created on a student's account, the college will return the credit balance to the student within 14 days.

Academic Recovery Students

Students who are not meeting Central's Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) requirements will need to complete an Academic Recovery Plan (ARP) with the Academic Dean. Students who successfully appeal Academic Suspension may re-enroll under the terms of their ARP. Students on an ARP will receive 60% of the tuition scholarship until they recover their grades to a satisfactory

Additional Financial Aid Resources

Central Internal Scholarships

Besides the Full-Tuition and Central Scholarship, CCCB offers a few other scholarships. They are listed below.

1. The “GO YE” scholarship is for international students planning on returning to their native country to minister after graduation.
2. The Kenny Burgus scholarship is for junior & senior males who are completing a degree in Preaching, Cross-Cultural, or Youth and Family Ministries.
3. The Lincoln Scholarship is for junior and senior students.
(The application for these three scholarships can be found on Central's Financial Aid website.)
4. The Academic Scholarship is for incoming students with at least a 25 ACT and a high school 3.5 GPA. Applications are available on our website.

Payment Plan to Pay Your College Bill

Central offers a Payment Plan through Nelnet Business Solutions. You will be able to:

- Arrange for monthly payments
- Make a down payment IMMEDIATELY and arrange for monthly payments
- Pay in full IMMEDIATELY

To access this information, go to <http://www.cccb.edu/financial-aid/payment-plan> . If you have questions, the Business Office will be glad to help. You can contact this office at 660-263-3900 ext 168 or email veronicahamblin@cccb.edu. Enrollment is open each year around May 1.

Church and Other Organizational Scholarships

Check with the leadership and/or missions committee of your church to see if financial help is available to students attending a Christian college. A Certification of Awards Form has been provided for you to use if needed.

Parental Help

Talk with your parents to see if they are able to help you with your college expenses. Have your parents check with their employers to see if there are scholarships or grants available through their places of employment, their life insurance companies, or service clubs.

Employment

Many students work on campus and earn money to help pay their school bills. The application for on-campus employment is available to you on-line. If you desire, you may send the application to the school before college starts and indicate which areas of campus you are interested in working. Each individual college manager hires for his or her own department. The one exception is the cafeteria. Our food service company manager hires for the cafeteria. Please contact the managers once you have arrived at school.

If you are not working on campus, there are many good jobs in Moberly for college students. Students must be persistent in looking for employment. Central cannot guarantee students will be able to find part time employment. However, a persistent student usually is able to find employment in the community or surrounding areas, including Columbia, MO, at some point in the academic year.

Private Student Loans

The affordability of attending Central Christian College makes the need for Private Student Loans rare. However, if a student determines the need to apply for such a loan, Central's Financial Aid Office will certify the loan for the student up to the Cost of Attendance (COA). Students will need to complete a Self-Certification Form ensuring they understand that this loan is NOT a federal loan.

The benefits of applying for a student loan from the Direct Loan Program far outweigh the benefits of a Private Loan. Students are encouraged to utilize Federal Student Aid and always apply for a Direct Loan before they consider a Private Student Loan.

Private loans are considered financial aid assistance in calculating a student's need for FSA and may affect the type and amount of federal student loans, grants, or work study a student may receive.

Financial Aid Policies

Onsite Payment Policies

The following is the registration payment policy: In order to attend classes, a student's bill is to be paid in full by the Monday following registration week. The following exceptions will be honored.

1. If a student has completed the process for Federal Student Aid, the College will require only the student pay the obligation that will remain after application of this aid and the full-tuition scholarship, if applicable. Completion of the Federal Student Aid process includes completing all forms required to receive the aid, including, but not limited to, the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) and satisfying the requirements of verification, if selected. This may include submission of tax transcripts as well as other documentation requested by the Financial Aid Office. If a student applies for a Federal Student Loan, all loan documents will need to be completed as well.
2. The College may consider outside scholarships (from churches, service clubs, or other promised awards) and decrease the payment required prior to attending classes by the amount of such awards only if the college receives written notice stating the student will receive a scholarship, who the sponsor is, the amount of the scholarship, date of disbursement, and an indication that there is not a restriction to the award for the current semester.
3. If the student has a payment plan in place through Nelnet, and is current on that plan, this will be considered as an exception. However, if the student terminates the plan or defaults on the plan, they will be expected to pay the remaining balance on the account.

If the College determines that the student's financial aid will not be available, the student will be notified in writing of the remaining obligation. The student will have seven days from the date of notification to settle the remaining obligation. Nonpayment will result in the student's withdrawal from the College.

Withdrawals And Refunds

Grace Period

The Grace Period applies to all classes at Central. It lasts until the equivalent of at least one full week of instruction.

Regular courses – The Grace Period ends at 4:00 pm Friday of the 1st full week of classes for the semester.

Focused courses – The Grace Period ends at 1:00 pm Friday of the 1st weekend of the classes.

May courses – The Grace Period ends at 4:00 pm Monday after the 1st full week of the course.

Online courses – The Grace Period ends at 4:00 pm Monday after the 1st full week of the course.

Withdrawal Deadline

The last day to drop a course is noted on the semester calendar (approximately 75% into the semester). Students may withdraw from a course before that date and receive a grade of W, which will not affect the GPA but will have an effect on a student's attempted/completed ratio if the course is taken again from Central.

Dropping courses with a refund

Any fees attached to a course (lab, tech, overload) are refunded if the course is dropped within the appropriate Grace Period. A student's financial aid may be adjusted to reflect the new course schedule. The Financial Aid Office will work with Academic Services and the Business Office to determine the outcome.

Students who drop May courses by the end of the Grace Period receive a refund of their fees, but are liable for an Exit Fee of $100.

Withdrawing from courses with no refund

Withdrawing from a course after the Grace Period, but before the withdrawal deadline, will incur a Change of Schedule Fee and the student will receive no refund.

Dropping out of school

Students who notify us that they are exiting school for the semester by 3:00 pm Friday of first full week of classes have their semester charges removed, but are liable for the appropriate exit fee ($400 for on-campus students and $250 for off-campus students). Bookstore, cafeteria flex cards, and IT charges may not be refundable. Students who leave after the Grace Period do not receive a refund of fees and are not charged the Exit Fee.

The FAO will be informed when a student drops a course or withdraws from school. The FAO will determine if a student's financial aid will change. If a student drops all courses, the FAO will perform a Return of Title IV calculation using the Department of Education's software.

Online Students

Students are considered Online Students under the following policies if they have declared their program to be the online certificate or online degree. To pursue a degree or certificate, they must have graduated from high school (or have a GED), applied, and been enrolled to be a student at Central. Students enrolled in the Certificate of Bible Knowledge are not eligible for Federal Student Aid.

Online students must have appropriate application materials completed four weeks before the first day of the course. Students must make payment in full at least 7 days before the first day of the course (or have adequate financial aid in place) in order to remain registered for the course. (Note: Onsite students may add an online course up to the first day of the class.)

Degree-seeking online students are not eligible for the tuition scholarship. Tuition for online students is $275 per credit hour. Financial aid is distributed each term appropriate to the enrollment for that term. Please refer to the online web pages for more information.

Withdrawals and Refunds

A Grace Period drop can take place by Monday after the 1st full week of an online class for $100 per class (with the tuition or student services fee refunded). Following the Grace Period, the drop deadline is the sixth Monday of the term, with a $40 charge and no refund.

1. If an online student drops all courses for the term during the Grace Period, he or she will be charged $100 per class.
2. If an online student drops all courses for the term after the Grace Period, a refund will not be made.

The Financial Aid Office (FAO) will be informed when a student drops a course or withdraws from school. The FAO will determine if a student's financial aid will change. If a student drops all courses, the FAO will perform a Return of Title IV Return calculation to determine how much a student may keep of the financial aid and how much must be returned to the Department of Education.

Exceptions to the Refund Policy for Onsite & Online Students

There are only a few exceptions to this refund policy:

1. If a student has received orders to report for Active Duty in the military, the student must present a copy of the military orders to the VP of Business & Finance for verification.
2. If a student becomes unable to attend school due to a medical condition, the student must present a written medical release from attending classes from his/her doctor. This release must be presented to the VP of Business & Finance for verification.
3. If a student's immediate family has an emergency because of major illness, death, or other family loss which would cause undue hardship for the family if the student did not return home, that student may be considered for a refund. A written request must be submitted by the student and the student's parent or guardian, if applicable, explaining the situation and requesting to be excused from further class attendance.

The above approved exceptions will be refunded based on the date of approval. Students who exit prior to Central's published grace period end date will pay an exit fee. The amounts are as follows:

1. $400 for onsite residential students
2. $250 for onsite off-campus students
3. $100 per class for online students.
4. Second week of class to the end of the semester - The refund is prorated for the actual time the student was in class at Central.

Federal Return of Funds Policy

The U.S. Department of Education has developed web-based software for colleges to calculate the return of Title IV funds. Central will use this software to calculate the appropriate return of funds for students who officially withdraws from all classes and have received Federal Title IV financial aid for the current semester of enrollment. Central will provide, upon request, a printout of the calculation formula generated by the software.

In many instances, students whose accounts were "paid in full" at the beginning of the semester may end up owing part of the student expenses to Central after withdrawing. This occurs because of the differences in the General Refund Policy of Central and the Federal Return of Funds Policy. Other students who have received federal grant funds to pay for non-institutional costs may end up owing repayments to both Central and the federal government.

Independent Status

The Department of Education has strict criteria on what determines if a college student is to be considered an independent student. The rules are different from the IRS rules that govern tax codes. Students must meet at least one of the following criteria to be considered independent for Federal Student Aid purposes.

1. Your birth date. You must be born before January 1, 1993 for the 16-17 academic year
2. If you have completed one bachelor degree
3. If you are married
4. If you provide more than ½ the support for your children
5. If you have other dependents who receive more than ½ their support from you
6. If you were an orphan or a ward of the court anytime since you turned 13 years of age
7. If you have served on active duty in the U.S. Armed Forces (other than training)
8. If you are a veteran of the U.S. Armed Forces

Additional items that independent students at Central may need to consider as they prepare to come to school:

1. The Full-Tuition and Central Scholarships are disbursed at the 30% point of each semester. This means, on your student account, it will appear as if you owe the school your tuition until the scholarship has been disbursed.
2. New students at Central who are using Federal Student Loan to help pay for their college expenses, will not receive their loan monies until 30 days after classes have started.

What these two items mean for an independent student living off-campus is this:

1. You will not receive a refund until at least one (1) month into the school year.
2. You need to be prepared financially to pay your first couple of months of rent, utilities, etc. before your aid is available to you.

If, however, you will be an independent student living in the residence halls, we will count your loans as pending and allow you to move into the dormitories as we wait for your aid to come.

If any kind of FSA credit balance has been created on your student account, Central has, by law, 14 days to issue a refund to you.

If you have any questions concerning these things, please contact your Financial Aid Office.

Notice Of Federal Student Financial Aid Penalties For Drug Violations

Anyone who is convicted under any federal or state law involving the possession or sale of illegal drugs while a student at Central Christian College of the Bible and receiving Federal Student Aid will lose the eligibility for any disbursement of Federal Aid until such a time as eligibility is re-established. A student who has lost eligibility for this reason may regain eligibility for Federal Financial Aid if he or she successfully passes two unannounced drug tests conducted by a drug rehabilitation program that complies with criteria established by the Secretary of Education.

Consumer Information

Central provides all of its Consumer Information in one place. The Consumer Information web page provides parents and students (both current and prospective) a place to find information on Central's Privacy Policy, Health & Safety, and Student Outcomes policies. We will be happy to answer any questions, or direct you to the person who can, about the information you need.

Prepayment/Deposit Policy For Students

Returning students have until June 30th or December 16th, whichever applies, to confirm their Residence Hall status and pay a nonrefundable deposit either through personal funds, financial aid, or other verified funding sources. Those who have not completed the process by June 30th will be charged a Late Processing fee. Returning students who will be attending classes during the spring semester have until the last day of the fall semester to complete their schedule, confirm their Residence Hall status, and pay a nonrefundable deposit or be charged the Late Processing fee.

New/Reactivating students have until June 30th or December 1st, whichever applies, to submit their preregistration and housing forms, have their final high school/college transcripts received by the Admissions Office, and pay a nonrefundable deposit either through personal funds, financial aid, or other verified funding sources. Those who have not completed the process by the due dates will be charged a Late Processing fee.

Students who add, drop, or change their courses for the next semester after the last day of finals week, will be charged a $40 change of schedule fee. Students who fail a semester class may change their schedule without a change of schedule fee if they do so within 2 weeks of the distribution of grades for the semester.

In order to have paid your deposit with your Federal Financial Aid, the following things need to have been completed.

1. For Returning Students, your FAFSA must be completed before the June 30th deadline.
2. For New Students, your FAFSA must have been completed before the June 30th or December 1st deadline, whichever applies.
3. If selected for verification, all requested documentation is turned into the FAO by June 30th (or December 1st for new students) of each academic year.
4. You qualify for some type of aid and have completed the necessary paperwork so it may be processed. This may include, but is not limited to these things:
 - a. Pell Grant
 - b. Student Loans
 - c. Other Federal Aid

Students may have been awarded scholarships from organizations that they would like to use as their deposit. If the Financial Aid Office has written confirmation of the scholarship from the organization, and that the scholarship monies will be sent directly to the school, the Financial Aid Office will accept this as pending aid as well.

Students may have the Full-Tuition Scholarship listed on the Award Letter or on the portal information. However, the Full-Tuition Scholarship by itself does not meet the prepayment/deposit policy's criteria.

Financial Aid Deadlines

April 1 – All new students should file their FAFSA by April 1st to ensure they are ready for registration in August.

June 30 – Prepayment of $200 is due from returning students if they haven't met the exceptions.

June 30 – New student prepayment is due. All Direct Loan Applications are due in the Financial Aid Office.

November 1 – New students for second semester should have filed their FAFSA.

December 1 - Prepayment or deposit is due from all new/reactivating students. New/reactivating students for second semester should turn in their loan work to the FAO.

Last day of the Fall Semester - Fall students return for the spring semester have until this date to complete academic advising, have funding plan and their housing in place for the spring semester.

Cost Of Attendance (COA)

The Cost of Attendance is the total amount it may cost a student to live during the time they are in college. Central's Financial Aid Office figures what the COA will be for each academic year. This includes more than what one might pay at registration. The COA may include, as mandated by the Department of Education, tuition & fees, books & supplies, transportation, personal miscellaneous expenses, room & board, and dependent & disability care, and loan fees.

COA figures are determined by the published rates of tuition & fees, room & board, and by using College Boards annual Living Expense Budget in the areas of housing, transportation, and miscellaneous expenses.

Below are the COA figures for full-time students for the 2016-2017 academic years. Complete COA figures for less than full-time students are available upon request.

In compliance with federal regulations, Central provides for its students two Cost Calculators. One of the calculators is a Billing Calculator. It helps determine what your actual student bill will be at the time of registration. The other calculator links directly to a Federal Student Aid's Net Price Calculator with information available to you through a Department of Education website. This information estimates for you what it will cost to go to college for the next 4 years and includes all the COA components listed above.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN COLLEGE OF THE BIBLE

Financial Aid Code of Conduct

Central Christian College of the Bible's Financial Aid Office endeavors to provide excellent service to the student body to ensure they will receive the maximum allowable amount of federal, state, institutional, as well as other organizational aid allowed by law.

In compliance with the Secretary of Education's request and to be in compliance with recent regulatory changes, the following is Central Christian College's Financial Aid Office "Code of Conduct."

1. If a student is considering borrowing money from a private lender in order to pay for education related expenses, the Financial Aid Office of Central Christian College will never "assign" a lender to a student. Additionally, the Financial Aid Office (FAO) will not coach, tell, or suggest to a borrower one lender over another. This is the responsibility of each borrower to determine who their lender will be.
2. Certification of all loans will be done in a timely manner. All loans will have equal status. The order of certification will be determined by the date the loan was requested and documentation was completed. It should be noted, however, that if a loan certification is done by a paper certification and mailed to the lender, a paper check may be slower in getting back to the borrower through no fault of the College.
3. As part of the Department of Education guidelines, Central has chosen to give to students, upon request, a listing of participating private student loan lenders that have been used by Central students during the last three years. Students may choose to use one of these lenders or may choose a different lender who participates in a student loan program. No employee of the FAO or Central Christian College will influence a student's decision regarding choosing one lender over another and make it very clear that they are not bound by the choices provided for them on the list.
4. Central does not have a preferred lender list nor has it made any agreements with any lender for any type of service in exchange for special consideration. No employee of Central Christian College will request or accept any payment or benefit of any kind from a lender in exchange for being included on any kind of a Private Lender List, or in exchange for the College's recommending the lender to its students or parents.
5. At no time will lenders who make loans to students or their parents identify themselves as employees of the College or will any college personnel identify the lenders as employees of the College. The institution will not, at any time, contract with a lender to provide compensation to the College or its staff. Additionally, the College will not request or accept assistance from a lender for a call center or Financial Aid Office staffing.

6. Central's employees are forbidden to accept anything of more than nominal value from a lender, servicer, or guaranty agency. Also, as indicated by the Department of Education, novelty gifts, pads of paper, pens, pencils, etc., of value of less than $10 may be accepted as a token of appreciation as long as acceptance of token is not in exchange for placement on a Preferred Lender List or special treatment by the Financial Aid Office. This ban on gifting is extended to the family members and others with relationships to college employees and officers. Such gifts would be considered gifts to said employees if they know about the gift and believe the gift was based on the position of the employee or officer.
7. If an employee of Central Christian College serves on a lender or guarantor advisory board, payment may not be made for their service except that reasonable expenses, such as travel/mileage, lodgings, or meals in order to serve on the board. No other reimbursement will be accepted. At no time will a college officer or employee with responsibilities with respect to educational loans or financial aid be allowed to receive financial benefit from a lender or lender affiliate as compensation for any consulting services provided to or for a lender.
8. Before the certification of any private loan, Central's Financial Aid Office will inform students or parents of the option and benefits, including lower costs, to borrow Title IV funds prior to recommending a private education loan. A self-certification form, as required by law, will be given to each student to complete and kept in a student's file to ensure compliance.
9. Central will not request or receive an offer of funds from a lender for private education loans including funds for opportunity to pool loans to its students in exchange for concessions or promises to the lender.
10. The personnel of Central's Financial Aid Office are expected to always maintain exemplary standards of professional conduct in all aspects of carrying out his or her responsibilities. In addition, the Financial Aid Office will refrain from taking any action perceived to be contrary to law, regulation, or the best interest of the students and parents.

Revised for the 2016-2017 academic year
